

RUSSIA MADE FEEBLE EXCUSE

Admiral Thought He Saw Japanese Warships
in the Trawlers Fleet.

HE EXPRESSES VERY MUCH SORROW

England Is Not Satisfied Yet--Demands the Punishment
of the Admiral and the Fleet Officers.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)
London, Oct. 27.—It is learned that the British government has refused to accept the explanation of the Russian admiral, Admiral Rozhdestvensky, in case no agreement is reached, England is not to declare war, but will inform Russia the Baltic fleet will not be permitted to proceed.

Admiral's Report
London, Oct. 27.—Rozhdestvensky's report reached Count Benckendorff this morning and was quickly conveyed to the government. It is understood the admiral states he never had any intention of firing on the trawlers. If a stray shot hit one of their boats it was entirely accidental. The trawlers were early spotted by the Russian fleet as it passed the Dogger bank. Among the trawlers the Russian officers noticed two steamers moving at a high rate of speed which looked exactly like the boats. Rozhdestvensky concluded by saying they were Japanese torpedo boats, and adds his opinion is the squadron fired against these boats.

He denies that a Russian warship was left behind for six hours and never lowered boats to assist the injured. He says: "The Russian officers struck any of the trawlers." In behalf of himself and his officers and men of the fleet he regrets the trawlers and fishermen suffered.

Offers Mediation
Birmingham, Oct. 27.—The Post learns the French foreign minister, Delcasse, has offered his service as a mediator between England and Russia, should such service be needed. He makes the offer as an ally of Russia and a friend of England.

Another Fight
London, Oct. 27.—Lloyd's has a telegram from Gode asserting that a Swedish steamer Aldehamn has been fired at by a battleship in the Skagerack, to the north of Great Britain. The shot did not take effect. One of the foreign torpedo boats disappeared after the firing. The other remained until morning waiting for its companion. The admiral asks what warship it was that was noticed hovering near the scene and declares both ships he fired against were unmistakably of the warship type.

Still Deadlock
The deadlock on the question of punishment of the Russian officers continues. Russia maintains the demand for such punishment is an infringement on Russia's sovereignty and cannot be entertained.

London Press in Derision
The Russian admiral's explanation is derided in the press, the Morning Post calling it the statement of a lunatic. The Times says:

"If he really made it, or anything resembling it, there is only one course open to us—namely, to demand and insist on his instant dismissal and exemplary punishment."

The Daily Mail in its announcement that the two nations are on the verge of war says:

"The situation arising from the North sea outrage has become one of much gravity. The British government has formulated four demands—viz.:

"First—For an apology for the attack.

"Second—For pecuniary indemnity for the victims.

"Third—For the punishment of the Russian officers concerned.

"Fourth—For a guarantee of the future security of British shipping from similar attacks."

Willing to Apologize
"The Russian government is willing to make an apology and pay an indemnity, but as regards the other two points the war party, which is strongly ascendant in St. Petersburg, refuses as yet to make the desired concessions."

"The British government has resolved not to give way. We understand it has notified the Russian government that its acquiescence must be forthcoming by the afternoon of Oct. 27."

"Falling in this, the channel fleet will, we understand, be instructed to ask the Baltic fleet to return. Should the Russian admiral refuse, it is expected that the British admiral will be obliged to compel the fleet's return."

"The British government has, we believe, reason for the confidence that whatever action it may take in its resolve to secure amends for the terrible and inexcusable outrage, France will not consent to be embroiled."

Discuss Probability of War
The calmness of the London press hitherto shown is giving way to outspoken bellicose anger. Nearly all the London newspapers discuss the probability of war should the war party in St. Petersburg be able to influence Russia to determine to shield the officers of the Baltic squadron.

The tentative offers of apology and expression of personal regret by the czar and his ambassador in London, Count Benckendorff, are not satisfactory.

Lord Lansdowne, the British minister of foreign affairs, said last evening:

"Russia's reply to Great Britain's note on the subject of the North sea tragedy has been received by the British government. It expresses deep regret at the occurrence and promises full reparation so soon as an official report is received from Vice Admiral Rozhdestvensky."

"Russia's reply in its present form is incomplete, especially in the failure to grant Great Britain's demand for the punishment in principle of such officers as might be found responsible."

Time Limit Is Near
Lord Lansdowne added that he trusted the matter would be settled within twenty-four hours.

In the meantime there is a sinister significance in the movements of the several British squadrons and in the activity in British naval circles and at all dockyards.

At Gibraltar the battleships Victoria, illustrious, and Majestic (flagship of Vice Admiral Boreasford), and the cruisers Lancaster, Theseus and Endymion are under orders to sail on the morning of Oct. 28.

The battleship Hannibal and the cruiser Doris are watching the straits of Gibraltar closely. The Russian Baltic squadron's cruisers and torpedo boats are expected to pass through the straits of Gibraltar on the way to Suez.

The ships of the channel fleet at Gibraltar have filled their bunkers with coal and replenished their ammunition and other stores and will be ready for sea at a moment's notice.

The whole of the Gibraltar torpedo flotilla has been commissioned.

Ready for Emergencies
Great activity is being manifested at the home naval stations in preparation for any eventuality. Never before have the vessels in the fleet reserve been more in a condition of preparedness than they are at the present time. Significant orders were received at Portsmouth, however, with the result that overtime is being ordered on board the battleship Triumph, the new battleship purchased not long since from the Chilean government and which was damaged recently in collision.

The Triumph is one of the most powerful units of the home fleet, and evidently it is the intention of the admiralty to bring that squadron to its full strength at the earliest possible moment.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 27.—The Cameron Septic Tank Co. of Chicago has brought suit in the United States court in this city against the city of Madison for infringement of patent rights. The company alleges that the city sewage plant established in this city infringes upon its right as afforded under its patent number 634,423. The company prays that the city be restrained from further using the apparatus for treating sewage and that the court assess the damages sustained by reason of the infringement. A letter threatening suit was received by the common council of this city last month from the Cameron company but no attention was paid to it. Bryan and Taggart are said to be leaders of the new movement. The refusal of the New York managers to allow western men to participate in the councils is said to be the original defection.

MINES MAY BE CLOSED DOWN

Coal Hoisting Engineers Refuse To Accept the Reduction in Wages Offered.

OFFER ALL LAST YEAR'S SCHEDULES

The Operators' Association Decline To Accept This Offer
From Their Employees--Idleness
May Follow.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 27.—A threatened revolt of the coal-hoisting engineers in the state of Illinois, which would tie up all the coal mines and throw between 45,000 and 50,000 men out of work, reached a stage near a strike Wednesday, when the executive committee of the Coal Operators' association received a message from the representative of the engineers saying that the latter had refused to arbitrate a wage scale difference.

The adjustment of the scale for hoisting engineers has been delayed for a month and as the present scale expires Oct. 31 there appears little hope for a settlement. Negotiations have been going on with regard to working conditions, hours, etc., but when the wage question was reached the operators asked the engineers to accept a scale which would mean a reduction of 5.55 per cent, practically the same as the miners agreed to accept last spring.

Engineers Refuse Reduction.
This reduction the engineers refused to accept and the matter was sent to the locals of the Brotherhood of Engineers for a referendum. The referendum returns were compiled Wednesday, showing that the men in the locals overwhelmingly were opposed to accepting any decrease. When the word was sent to the coal operators, a proposition to arbitrate the differences was made, but a message from National Chief Engineer Mack Taylor was received saying that the unions had finally determined their stand against the reduction and there was nothing to arbitrate. In the telegram Mr. Taylor said he hoped that the action of the operators was not final, but was disillusioned a few minutes later, when a message from Secretary C. L. Scroggs was sent declaring that the action was final and all negotiations off.

The situation appears serious and the coal operators fear a tieup of extensive dimensions. Preparations have been made to operate the hoisting machinery, but the walkout, if it takes place, will embarrass the operators temporarily, at least.

Offer Renewal of Wages.
In a series of communications between the Illinois Coal Operators' association and the Brotherhood of Coal Hoisting Engineers, following the first joint meeting in St. Louis in September, the situation was explained. The engineers offered to renew their wages and conditions scale, but the offer was rejected. The engineers are paid higher wages in Illinois than any other state and their hours are but eight per day, while in other states nine and ten hours are worked, and the pay is less.

The operators asked the engineers to accept a reduction similar to that accepted by the miners. A year ago the engineers demanded a 25 per cent increase. The question went to a board of arbitration, which gave the men 12 1/2 per cent increase. It was assumed that the engineers this year would submit to arbitration when the question to be considered was reversed.

In his statement National Chief Taylor said to the operators:

"The engineers in proposing to reaffirm last year's prices and conditions waived many changes in the agreement, which they think they are justly entitled to in the hope of being able to obtain a peaceful conference and settlement. They still stand ready to waive these rights and to reaffirm the present agreement for a term of two years. In making this proposition they believe they are more than fair and cannot recede from their position. As our present agreement is nearing its expiration we desire to have your decision in this matter at your earliest convenience."

President Garrison's Reply.
In reply President Garrison of the operators sent the following telegram:

"Our executive committee, now in session in Chicago, has received your letter in which you refuse to arbitrate. We are directed to say that our association in proposing to arbitrate has offered the one recognized agency for the equitable settlement of such disputes between employer and employee. We are unable to believe that your decision is final, and we are authorized to insist upon it and to say that we have appointed our arbitrators to meet yours and decide upon an amicable should they be unable to agree. If, however, your decision to refuse arbitration is final, we have nothing further to offer. We await your reply."

Mr. Taylor's answer was:

"It is with regret I inform you that we have received our instructions from the engineers and are unable to recede from the proposition already made by them."

The last message closed negotiations and the strike is expected.

NEW YORK SUBWAY WAS OPENED TO PUBLIC TODAY

Fitting Ceremonies Are Followed by the Promoters of This Concern--Mayor Starts Machinery.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)
New York, Oct. 27.—The new Rapid Transit subway was formally opened this afternoon. The first train was started by Mayor McCallen with a silver controller. Simultaneously the trains started at various stations. At 1 o'clock President Forbes of the board of aldermen called the meeting to order in the Aldermanic chamber. Then he introduced the mayor as presiding officer. The mayor, after stating the object of the meeting called upon Comptroller Bligh David H. Greer of New York for an opening prayer. Chief Engineer William Barclay Parsons, when asked by the mayor to make a statement as to the fitness and readiness of the subway responded briefly. The mayor called on President Orr to make an address and then, in the order named asked for brief remarks from Commissioner Starin, Contractor J. B. McDonald, and August Belmont, president of the Interborough Rapid Transit company. Mayor McCallen answered briefly for the city after which Archbishop Farley of New York pronounced the benediction.

Mayor Starts First Train.
The invited guests then proceeded to the city hall station of the subway, there to take the first train, which was started by the mayor with a silver key furnished by the Interborough company. There were 700 invitations issued to the opening exercises; also over 10,000 invitations entitled persons to ride in the subway between 2:30 and 6 o'clock.

Whole Line Starts at Once
Manager Frank Hadley of the subway road announced that 300 cars would start as soon as the road opened. He said: "This is the first time that a whole railroad has been opened and put in operation at the stroke of a clock. I would have the public bear in mind that on the first day there may be delays, and they should not condemn the system until the road has settled down to a good basis of operation."

After a consultation between officers of the police department and the Interborough company it was announced that no loitering would be allowed about the stations or the street tracks. In the opinion of the police the things most likely to choke traffic for the first few days will be the likelihood of persons stopping to see the sights, getting off the trains to look at particular stations and loitering about generally.

"The road is built for traffic, not sightseeing parties," said one of the subway road officers.

On Mayor McCallen's suggestion, preparations were made to have whistles blow and bells ring as the "first train" containing the officers of the city and the Rapid Transit commission and guests started from the city hall station at 2 p. m. Between 6 and 7 o'clock this evening no persons will be admitted to the subway. At 7 o'clock the sale of tickets will begin and thereafter the public may use the trains regularly.

Police Commissioner McAdoo will have 500 men on hand at the stations to handle the crowds.

BIG BANKING DEAL MADE IN CHICAGO THIS MORNING

Continental Bank Purchases All the Deposits
and Accounts of the Bank of North America.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—The National Bank of North America of which N. Perry is president was purchased this morning by the Continental bank. The entire business will be transferred. This will make the Continental the second largest bank in Chicago, with deposits of fifty-five million. Before the sale the directors of the North America refused to accept the resignation of President

Perry, expressing a belief of his innocence. The action comes as a climax to the sensational charges connecting the name of Perry with the alleged felonious burning of the Chicago Car and Locomotive company works at Kew-Forest on Oct. 9. Perry in a statement intimates it is set afloat by men who will be forced out of the company through the reorganization.

WOLVERINES TO BE HERE TONIGHT

OVER 2,000 POUNDS OF FOOT-BALL BRAWN ON WAY.

INTEREST IN THE BIG GAME

At Madison Saturday Supplants Politics for Nonce—Badgers Will Be Ready for Visitors.

Madison will be the mecca of Janesville football enthusiasts Saturday, the great game between Wisconsin and Michigan on the day eclipsing all battle on the gridiron—so far this season. A large number of either directly interested in the outcome of the struggle or prompted by love of a rattling good contest have planned to go. The Wisconsin authorities expect at least 15,000 at the game. Besides the number of Janesville people that will go from here large delegations of Rockford and Beloit devotees of the game will come up in the morning over the electric line and take the 10:35 on the St. Paul and the 11:45 on the Northwestern. The train that carries the football squad will be the most popular of the two.

There will undoubtedly be a good sized group of the curious at the Northwestern depot this evening when the 9:15 train pulls in with the Michigan squad of twenty-one gridiron warriors, chaperoned by Coach "Hurricane" Yost and Trainer Keene Fitzpatrick. It is given out that the entire team weighs 2,078 pounds; the line 1,352, the back field, 686. This is an average of 199 pounds for the line, 171 1/2 for the back field and an average of 189 for the entire team.

How Team Sizes Up. From tackle to tackle the team is said to be particularly strong on defense and it will require a wonderful line player to puncture holes there. The ends are said to be only fair and more danger to the Michigananders is said to lie in the possibility of circling guards or boxing them out of plays than anything else. The back field is fast. Capt. Heston at left half is easily the star of the team if Yost's machine may be said to have any stars. Coach Yost is wanted by Pennsylvania next year providing it is decided to abandon the graduate coaching system there and the same eastern college has a strong line out for Fitzpatrick. Undoubtedly the greatest college tar in this country today.

The team which left Ann Arbor today at 8:46 a. m., and arrived in Chicago early in the afternoon, includes the following twenty players: Heston, Curtis, Schulte, Norcross, Garrels, Tom Hammond, Harry Hammond, Ted Hammond, Schultz, Patrick, Graham, Depere, Carter, Longman, Weeks, Magoffin, Clark, Rheinschild, Becker and Stuart.

(Special From Madison.) Wisconsin will meet Michigan Saturday with a total weight of 1,968 pounds, exactly 173 1/2 pounds per man of the eleven men, on the average. If Kinney instead of Brindley plays right tackle, which is possible, the aggregate weight of that badgers will be brought up to 1,983 pounds, for Brindley weighs 15 pounds less than Kinney. Brindley, however, has the better chance of playing in the big game.

The weight of the badgers is well distributed. There is not a man on the team who tips the beam at more than 200 pounds. The heaviest member is Dick Kemp. Wisconsin's center, who weighs 295 pounds. Four of the five center line men weigh 190 pounds or more and were Kinney to be sent in, the entire five would each weigh between 190 and 200 pounds. The lightest man on the badger eleven is George W. Jones, at quarterback, who weighs only 144 pounds. His great improvement in recent games and practice show that he has ability and staying power more than was suspected in the early part of the season. Wisconsin's ends weigh together 350 pounds, the halfbacks weigh just the same as the ends, and Clark, who weighs only 174, Coach Curdle had the best combination possible, according to his judgment, in the game with Drake Saturday, and unless accident or other unforeseen things develop in the next three days, the same team will meet Michigan, as follows:

Name	Position	Weight
Findlay	le.	180
Berkie	lt.	192
Dorovan	lg.	194
Kemp	cg.	196
Stromquist	rc.	190
Brindley	rt.	178

Michigan Line-up. Following is the probable line-up and the approximate weights of the Michigan men, as the team will first line up at Camp Randall next Saturday:

Players	Position	Weight
Weeks	le.	170
W. Curtis	lt.	220

SLOW IN FILING THE CERTIFICATES

State Statute Requires Doctors and Pastors to Record Deaths, Marriages and Births.

A number of pastors and doctors violate the state laws by failing to file with the register of deeds certificates of deaths, births and marriages within a period of thirty days after the same have occurred.

Section 4,608b, of the Wisconsin statutes, relating to notices of births and burial permits, reads as follows: "Any person who shall wilfully violate any of the provisions of section 1023a or 1024, or who shall neglect or refuse to make any certificate required by said sections to be made, or knowingly make any false statement in such certificate shall be punished by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $50 for each offense." By imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than thirty days nor more than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 1022 relates to the duties of persons who solemnize marriages and is as follows:

"Every person or society authorized by law to solemnize marriages, or by before whom any marriage may be solemnized or contracted, shall at once make a record of the same in a book therefor, which shall contain as far as the same can be ascertained, the full name of the husband, his occupation, place of birth and residence, full name of wife previous to marriage, names of parents of husband and wife, the color of the parties, the time and place, when and where, and ceremony by which such marriage was contracted, and if solemnized by any clergyman or other person, his place of residence; and shall, within thirty days after such marriage, return the same facts in the form of a certificate, duly signed and dated, to the register of deeds." "If he shall neglect to return the same as above provided, he shall forfeit for every neglect not less than $25 nor more than $100."

"Section 4556. Any officer or other person whose duty it shall be by law to return or certify to the register of deeds, any birth, marriage or death occurring within this state, who shall refuse or wilfully neglect to make any such return, or certificate as required by law or who shall knowingly make any false return or certificate thereof, or any register of deeds who shall refuse or wilfully neglect to make, or cause to be made, the true entry, or who shall wilfully make or cause to be made, a false entry thereof, in his books of registration, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not more than six months, or by fine not exceeding $100."

WISCONSIN DUCKS ATTRACT HUNTERS

Dr. Nicholas Senn, Chicago's Famous Surgeon, Will Hunt in the State.

Dr. Nicholas Senn, the eminent surgeon of Chicago, who makes annual trips to Wisconsin hunting, has secured a non-resident small game license and will shortly come to this state after prairie chickens, ducks and partridges. This year he will not try for deer.

Letters received by the game warden asking for blanks for application for non-resident licenses indicate that there will be a great number of hunters from other states in Wisconsin this fall, the rush coming after election. The warden has already issued 282 non-resident small game licenses, $10 each, and the season seems to have just commenced. Licenses for the hunting of small game and deer, $25 each, have been issued to 43 non-residents. These are more than had been issued at the same time last year. Settlers of Wisconsin who have not resided here long enough to take out a resident license have the privilege of taking out a settler's license, the fee, $1, and the privileges being the same as for residents. Reports from the deputy wardens show that small game is remarkably plentiful. A map is being prepared for publication by the government report, showing in what counties the various kinds of game are to be found and how abundant they are. In the counties of Jackson, Marinette, Portage, Douglas, Burnett, Washburn and Wood there are many prairie chickens, more plentiful than in years. The chickens seem to be working northward. Partridges are also reported to be abundant in a number of counties.

Don't forget please. Mrs. Austin's Pancake Flour best of all. For sale at all grocers.

CANNOT VOTE A STRAIGHT TICKET

Social Democratic and Prohibition Tickets Printed as Individual Nominations on Official Ballot.

Secretary of State Houser has made a change in the form of the official ballot, according to which the candidates for president and vice-president representing the people's party and the socialistic labor party will not appear on the ticket. These nominations are certified as individual nominations and in the columns, in which they appear there will be no circle at the top, as in the other columns, for voters to mark when they want to vote "a straight" ticket, in making up the ballot. It was discovered in a careful reading of the statute that in columns for individual nominations the circle and the names of the candidates for president and vice-president should not appear. An opinion was sought from the attorney general and he instructed the law to make no provisions for the names and circles in these columns.

Where are you going, my pretty maid? To the drugstore, sir, said she. You see my complexion is getting bad. I need some Rocky Mountain Tea.

ROAD ENJOINS GAME WARDENS

Chicago & Northwestern Line Takes Steps to Protect Hunters While Travelling.

Janesville hunters who have been troubled by game wardens who searched their baggage ruthlessly while they were on the return trip from the north, will be interested in an action begun by Edward M. Hyzer, chief attorney for the Chicago & Northwestern railway, with headquarters at Milwaukee, against John E. Buckley, a game warden. The attorney asks an injunction restraining the game warden from interfering in any way or molesting or breaking open or searching any package, trunk or similar thing while in transport on the Chicago & Northwestern road, without a warrant, unless these packages shall be known to contain fish or game carried in violation of law.

"If this injunction is successful, others will be secured against all other game wardens and Wisconsin hunters will have an opportunity of returning to their Wisconsin homes without having these agents rifling their baggage."

Game wardens have been searched, trunks, valises and satchels and other packages at many points in the state in alleged efforts to spot illegal transportation of game.

Chief warden, Tracy says the injunction will not do much good, and charges the railway company with making a "play just before election." He thinks there is a way of circumventing the writ, but does not say how. Under the law, he says, a game warden or deputy can search as thoroughly as desired to secure proof of the law's violation.

OPERATIONS A FAD, Public Gradually Awakens to the Fact

The latest fad in operations has been the appendicitis fad; before that the fad for rectal operations (piles, etc.) held sway. Hundreds of patients were frightened and hurried into hospitals, operated upon and robbed of their last dollar, when the trouble was a simple case of hemorrhoids or piles only, easily cured at home with the simple remedy costing but fifty cents a box.

"I procured one fifty cent box of Pyramid Pile Cure of my druggist, with the intention of buying a larger box later on, but was happily surprised when I found that I was cured and still have six pyramids left out of the first and only box. I have not had the least sign of piles since. I used this one box, which has been about two months; previous to using Pyramid Pile Cure I had the worst kind of bleeding and protruding piles for over thirty years, and no one knows, except those who have had the piles, the pain and misery I suffered."

"I am a poor man, but have often said I would give a fortune, if I had it, to be cured of piles, and now I have been cured for fifty cents. I should be very ungrateful if I did not thank you and give you every privilege to use my name and this letter when I know there are so many who suffer as I did." J. A. Weismiller, 100 Bladensburg Road, Washington, D. C.

The Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., publish a little book on the causes and cure of piles, which they will be glad to mail free to any applicant, and we advise all sufferers from this painful disease to write to them for it.

CROWN PRINCE AND FIANCEE

This is the best photo yet obtained of the German crown prince and his fiancée, Duchess Cecile of Mecklenburg-Schwerin. The unaffected naturalness of this picture gives a splendid idea of the actual appearance of both of these royal personages. It was taken on a rear staircase of the imperial palace at Berlin.

ABSOLUTE QUIET TO REIGN IN THE CITY

Mayor Hutchinson Calls on All Places of Business To Close for Hour or More Friday Morning.

Members of the council assembled at the city hall last evening to take suitable action regarding the death of Janesville's beloved marshal, Alderman Matheson introduced a motion that the members of the council and the city officers attend the funeral services in a body and that the city clerk be instructed to have the city hall closed at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning.

A committee consisting of Alderman Jackson, Matheson, Merritt and Murray was appointed to draw up the resolutions. Alderman Connel moved that the Mayor announce to the citizens of Janesville the death of John W. Hogan and request all business houses to close during the funeral Friday morning. This motion having been carried the janitor was instructed to drape the city hall in mourning.

NO INFORMATION GIVEN BY PHONE

Postoffice Employees Cannot Tell You When You Have Any Mail.

Under a new postal regulation employees are forbidden to give information over the telephone concerning mail in the office and should you try to use the wire to find out if there is anything in the office for you no satisfactory answer will be given. It is not generally known that the department has issued the order stopping the answer of this query from the patrons of the office, though it is now in effect. Since the installation of the phone system there are scores of calls daily at the office by parties wanting to know if they have mail there. Now the one answering the phone simply replies "I cannot tell you. You must come and see."

Any of those who call cannot understand why they cannot be given the answer over the telephone, but there are many reasons why the department has seen fit to make and enforce this rule.

According to an employee at the office, many valid reasons in support of the department's action are apparent as soon as the matter is given a little consideration. "If we answered such questions in the affirmative the people might send a boy down to the office for the mail, and as a result we would not know whether the right party was receiving the letters or not. Besides there are some people who for personal reasons, have a private box at the office for mail of a personal character. If some of their enemies wished to pry into their private affairs, they could easily do so by the telephone method, and the postoffice employees would have to bear the brunt of the blame. The measure is taken as a precaution, and the sooner the public becomes acquainted with this fact, the better it will be for all concerned."

Edward M. Morgan, assistant postmaster in the New York city postoffice, was named as the temporary successor of Postmaster Cornelius Van Cott, who died suddenly Tuesday.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul company has begun rebuilding the line from Manilla to Sioux City, reducing grades, straightening curves, rehabilitating and putting down heavier steel rails, with a view to changing it from a branch to a main line. The best proof that railway managers are confident of the continuance of general business prosperity is to be found in the number of orders for new cars and engines which have been given in the last thirty days.

There has been a decided change in the attitude of the railroad managers regarding the purchase of new equipment. Their plans to steadily increase their transportation facilities were shelved when a depression in all kinds of business became manifest early last fall. Orders which had been placed for equipments were countermanded in many cases.

The stoppage of orders for cars forced reductions in the working forces of all the car-building concerns, but the only large one which closed its doors was the Pullman company. Its shops were idle for several weeks. Recently orders have been coming into it rapidly and now good force of men is at work in an office of the American Car and Foundry company says: "The conditions in the car manufacturing business have shown considerable improvement in the past two weeks. Orders and inquiries are coming in on a large scale. The orders being placed at present show a rather narrow margin of profits, but as the demand increases, the car companies will be able to ask better prices than they are now making. We now have orders on our books for nearly 20,000 cars. During the boom times a couple of years ago it was not unusual for the company to have orders booked aggregating between 25,000 and 40,000 cars."

An official of the American Locomotive company says orders and inquiries are coming in from nearly all of the roads. Most of the roads held back their orders until the increase in all kinds of traffic was maintained or a period that demonstrated that improved business conditions were not merely a flurry. The "granger" roads have given big orders for motive power since the big corn crop became assured.

According to the Railway Gazette, the following orders for new equipment have been placed within the past ten days.

Big Pumpkin Crop Will Aid in Celebration of Mysterious Festivities of Halloween.

Pumpkins are very plentiful this year, and this fact leads to the thought that Halloween is not far distant. Monday night the Mistle festival will be observed by the smaller generation, and some grown up people, too, and the mischievous boy grows gleeful when he contemplates the fun he is going to have on this fall holiday, one of the greatest days of the year according to his notions. Around Halloween there is a great demand for pumpkins at the local groceries. The boys are eager to get the big, yellow shiny rinds to make "jack o' lanterns." Halloween parties will of course be numerous on Halloween this year, and these all of old fashioned games and amusements will be enjoyed.

You cannot afford to grow old. In these days of strenuous competition it is necessary to maintain, as long as possible, your youthful appearance. ...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Oct. 27, 1864.—Meeting Last Night.—There was a rollicking, rousing Union meeting at the Court room last night. Excellent speeches were made by E. A. Calkins, J. A. Sleeper and C. G. Williams. The singing by the club was bulky.

Personal.—We had calls from the Hon. Schuyler Colfax of Indiana; Hon. David Atwood of the Madison Journal; Col. Rann of the Milwaukee Register; J. M. Rundy Esq., of the Milwaukee Sentinel; Col. E. A. Calkins of the Third Wisconsin Cavalry, and Hon. Matt H. Carpenter of Milwaukee.

Hon. George Smith expressed some astonishment to our citizens that there was no report of his speech delivered here the other evening at the Hyatt house hall in the Gazette. We would as soon think of turning a pole cat loose in our parlors.

SATURDAY'S GAME IS DECLARED OFF

High School Players Will Go to Madison.—Game with Stoughton or Madison Next.

The game which was to have been played Saturday afternoon between the high school football team of Janesville and Elkhorn has been declared off. The men are out of condition and the eleven is crippled by the injuries of several players as the result of the game last Saturday.

Elther Stoughton or Madison will be met on a week from this Saturday, November 5, final arrangements for a game on that date not having yet been made. Practice has not abated and last evening at the Grant school the eleven was given a stiff drill on signals and some scrimmage work with the subs. Several new formations and end runs were tried and interferences were formed that on the practice field looked as if they would be ground-gaining manœuvres. The major portion of the members and subs will go to Madison Saturday to witness the great intercollegiate contest there.

The improvement is due largely to the generosity of Mr. Morgan. The town of Turtle is doing the work, but is being helped by the proprietor of the big farm, who is sparing no expense in cutting down the hill and grading it into fine shape.

One of the country hills most dreaded by automobilists is being greatly improved by the town of Turtle and F. W. Morgan. Hundreds of dollars are being spent on the improvement, which is one of the most welcome undertakings in this vicinity in many years.

This hill which lies between Beloit and the Morgan farm has been a steep and sandy one, and has been at times almost impassable for automobiles and bicycles. Those who have had occasion to go in that direction have long wished that something might be done to relieve the condition, and they will be rejoiced to learn that this is now being accomplished at an expense of many hundreds of dollars.

LECTURE COURSE NUMBERS ARE GOOD

Father Vaughn Opens Y. M. C. A. Course—Number of Audience Limited to 550.

Father L. J. Vaughan, the noted Catholic divine, will open the ninth annual lecture course given under the auspices of the local Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday evening, November 15, in the auditorium of the Association building. Rev. Vaughan is without a doubt one of the brightest men and most talented lecturers and speakers in the United States today, and those in the city who have heard him before will doubtless do their best to be one of the audience that will listen to him on this date. The other numbers of the course are equally as good but the names of some, have, on account of their but recent debut in on the lecture platform not attained such a wide fame and well-known name as Rev. Vaughan. On December 20, Salisbury's orchestra of Chicago will furnish the second program. This organization has drawn large audiences in the city twice before under the auspices of the entertainment committee of the Y. M. C. A., and the demand for seats will not be less than either of those times, for behind them they leave a reputation that insures a crowded house on their next appearance. On January 27, Ash Davis, cartoonist, clay modeler, and sand etcher will give an entertainment in art of a high order mingled with mirth and jokes. The Harvard Musical club will give a concert on February 28th of instrumental and vocal music. Each member of the club is a soloist on some instrument or vocal and besides this they have a mixed quartette and orchestra. In closing the course Leonard's Sisters will furnish a musical entertainment on stringed instruments and with vocal music on March 29, D. D. Sive, an old Y. M. C. A. secretary, who has recently located in this city, is to list the town for the lecture course. The entertainment committee composed of W. E. Clinton, J. H. Jones, S. B. Heddies and J. C. Kline have decided to limit the number of season tickets sold to five hundred and fifty in order to insure comfort for the audience.

AMONG THE WORLD'S WORKERS

News Notes From Various Sources of Great Interest to the Workingman.

The railroad telegraphers of the country are discussing the question of an increase in wages, and the indications are that before long a general demand will be made upon the companies. There is also much dissatisfaction among them over the length of the work-day usually enforced.

The wage scale called for in the contracts between the Lake Carriers' Association and the different marine unions has been placed in effect. The increase in some instances involves an advance of 50 per cent over the present schedule.

Bridge and Structural Workers in international union has decided to put special organizations into the field to increase the membership, which is now about 16,000, one-third of which are employed in New York city.

Efforts are being made to consolidate the two central labor bodies of Spokane, Washington. One is chartered by the American Federation of Labor and the other by the American Labor Union.

Resolutions condemning the action of Governor Vates in vetoing the bill passed by the last legislature affecting the employment of women and minors in manufacturing establishments were reported by the committee of the state branch of the American Federation of Labor in Massachusetts recently.

C. P. Nellis, of Washington, the commissioner appointed to compute the rate of wages for the anthracite miners, notified the operators recently that, based upon the average price of coal, the rate of wages for the miners this month will be increased 2 per cent over last month. It is believed wages will be increased 10 per cent before the winter is over.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root, pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

WILL ABOLISH PRISON DUNGEON

Radical Reforms Are to Be Put Into Effect in New Jersey Bastille.

Trouton, N. J., Oct. 27.—As a result of ideas gained at the recent congress held in Quincy, Ill., George O. Osborne, head keeper of the New Jersey state prison in this city, has announced his determination to inaugurate radical reforms. One of the changes to be made is the abolishment of the dungeon as a punishment for infraction of the prison rules and the substitution of a well-lighted and well-ventilated cell for such offenders. Prisoners placed in solitary confinement in this way will be chained in such a manner that they will be kept standing during the hours when other prisoners are at work. The thumb-print method of identification also will be adopted.

DYING CONVICT IS PUNISHED

Prison Officials in Ohio Learn Later Felen Was Poisoned by Foo.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 27.—Thomas Hale, a negro life convict from Hamilton county, died in the penitentiary of opium poisoning, after having been punished while dying. The authorities suspect he was murdered by a fellow prisoner. Hale was a disturber and was bitterly disliked by many prisoners whom he had caused to be reported, for infractions of the rules. It is supposed the poison was placed in Hale's food by one of his prison enemies. Hale complained of being sick, but was believed to be shamming and was punished by the electric battery.

IS JUDGE PARKER HONEST?

The question will have to be asked, if it is not already been propounded, is Judge Alton B. Parker an honest man? And for reply we shall have to refer to the Judge's own statements made in his letter of acceptance and in his speeches since. Not in one instance alone has it been proven that Judge Parker has misrepresented the affairs of his country and quoted figures not only false, but so stupendously out of the way as to make the statements absurd and ridiculous. Judge Parker knows, as does the humblest citizen of the country that the Philippines have cost the United States altogether less than $200,000,000, and yet he continues to make the statement that they have cost us some $500,000,000. Judge Parker knows, as does the humblest citizen of the land, that there have been less than 4,500 American and native soldiers in the American army lost in the Philippines, including the American soldiers, both privates and officers, including deaths from wounds, sickness, drowning and other accidents and all contagious diseases, and yet Judge Parker continues to reiterate the statement that we have lost 200,000 lives because of that insurrection, and this, too, in the face of the absolute fact that only 125,000 men, all told have been sent to the Philippines. We repeat again that before long we shall have to ask the question, "Is Judge Parker an honest man?" And as we have already said, we will let Judge Parker's own words answer the question.

THE DON'T POLICY.

Thus far the Democratic party seems to consist entirely of statements in the negative. We have been told what Parker will not do if he gets into Washington, and at the same time we have been given to understand that Parker is a good, strong man, who will do something, but not the things which Roosevelt has done. But inasmuch as the things which Roosevelt and the Republican party have done and propose to do in the future cover a surprisingly large ground, it would be interesting to know what the evolutions of Parker would do outside this forbidden territory.

PARAGRAPHS.

Parker is rapidly becoming ridiculous to the voters, and when that happens to a candidate he needs to turn a hole.

The Democratic managers who were inveighing so loudly against the Roosevelt "machine" a few months ago are now compelled to admit that his machine is none other than the enthusiastic admiration of the great body of voters. When that machine gets a start, the professional politicians have to keep their hands off the brakes.

To give the Philippines immediate representation at the request of a party identified with the disfranchisement policy in the South might not help their interests much. There is an old proverb in Devonshire about its not being wise to show a cat the way to the cream.

One of the best commentaries on the "cracker" regime in the South is that its exponents, Williams and Tillman, are treated with courtesy in the North, while their followers would shoot anybody who made speeches in the South as offensive to the audience as the utterances of these orators are to Northern listeners.

A French sailing ship carrying 3,000 tons of cargo, and making a voyage from France to, say, San Francisco, and back to Liverpool, will receive from the French government, as a navigation bounty, more than $25,000, a policy that has driven American sailing ships entirely out of the trade.

"Low cost of construction, low wages and heavy subsidies of foreign governments," together with the lack of protective legislation, explains according to the Republican national platform, why our deep sea shipping is less by a million and a half tons than it was forty-three years ago.

In 1894 the average price of cotton was .06. In 1904 the price is about twice that much. That's a phase of Republican property, which is very apparent to the Afro-American farmer of the South.

Speaker Cannon says that the great trouble in this campaign is the over confidence of the Republicans. The Speaker is a level-headed man. In order to win all true Republicans must work and work hard for the ticket.

The Democrats are again prophesying a whirlwind campaign. It won't happen unless they can raise the wind.

The New York Herald chants daily "The people will have to decide." They will; and that is what is making the Hill-Gorman-Sheehan gang feel so sad.

Constructive administration by Mr. Roosevelt is way ahead of destructive administration by Parker.

The difference between the Republican and Democratic tactics seems to be thus far that the Republicans make charges that they can prove, and the Democrats make charges that they can't.

Mr. Roosevelt has not yet found it necessary to put in his Sundays consulting with party bosses about campaign politics.

It is said that the Democratic managers are awaiting with growing anxiety a large consignment of muzzles which have been ordered since the Hefflin ebullition.

Olney talks of our "needless scrimmage with Spain." That is a good way to get the Spanish war veteran vote.

The biggest complaint the Democrats have against Roosevelt is that he is beating them all along the line.

There has been so much mud slinging in the Democratic ranks that their campaign arguments are as speckled as a coach dog.

President Eliot of Harvard, is out for Roosevelt; and the Democrats are looking at each other and wondering where the lightning will strike next.

If the Democrats keep on abusing Roosevelt his plurality will blanket the whole country.

The registration officer himself did not know Judge Parker and had to ask him his name. It is wonderful to have a candidate as well known as that.

The boys in a New York ward were found wearing Roosevelt buttons and shying the Parker buttons at a fence in a newly invented game. This accounts for the sale of some Parker buttons anyway.

Perhaps when Judge Parker has the time he will explain how he, who has never been in the Philippines knows so much more about them than Secretary Taft, who has spent several years grappling with their problems on the spot.

There are judges and judges, and when it comes to detailed, accurate and well expressed information on the Philippines, we prefer ex-Judge Taft to ex-Judge Parker.

The south has already disfranchised the Afro-American. Now many prominent democrats in the North as well as the South, favor the repeal of the Fifteenth amendment.

Judge Parker's speech is an excellent catalogue of the things he does not know about the Philippines.

PRESS COMMENT.

Madison Journal: If this campaign continues much longer the father of lies will have to work his factory Sundays to keep the organs in wind.

Chicago Record-Herald: Tow Watson says he doesn't expect to win. This makes it unanimous as far as the expectations concerning Tom figure in the case.

San Claire Leader: A conference of Mormons is to be held at Oshkosh. The town can stand it if the Mormons can.

Cincinnati Commercial Tribune: If you haven't registered, register, and see that your republican neighbor does likewise.

La Crosse Leader-Press: It is real kind of the Milwaukee Sentinel to intimate that the governor's suits against the railways started two weeks before election on facts known for the greater part of a year, are intended for political effect.

Scranton Tribune: Hero Hobson says that Roosevelt is a lawless man and ought to be snowed under in November. Someone ought to seal Hobson's lips with a kiss.

Superior Telegram: Senator DePew is on the anxious seat. Like the little boy with his trousers on hind side before, he doesn't seem to be quite sure whether he is going or coming home from school.

Milwaukee News: It is a rather difficult stunt for Governor La Follette to appeal to "fair-minded" democrats to support him on state issues and to urge the republican national committee to whip stalwart manufacturers in line for him because his defeat would be a "blow to protection."

Minneapolis Tribune: The weather bureau can't hurt our feelings or dampen our ardor by predicting no Indian summer. Like the slender young man who held his 200-pound hours we're numb—we have yearned for real summer so hard we are no longer capable of feeling.

Oshkosh Northwestern: The state is expending $1,500 in building a new bathhouse in connection with the state school for the blind at Janesville, while the students of that institution complain that it's more food and not flowers that they are in need of. Governor La Follette, however, with his subtle eloquence can probably convince them they are mistaken.

Appleton Crescent: A great many democrats who formerly voted for La Follette will this year vote for their own nominee, George W. Peck. The word comes from every portion of the county that Peck will have a larger vote than that cast for any democratic candidate for governor in the past ten years. George W. Peck's administrations were among the best the state ever had.

Winneconne Local: The majority of party and factional newspapers and voters in Wisconsin could save a common wastage of underwear by having their shirts strengthened with cords across the rear, to avoid ripping them up the back in their anxiety as to the outcome of the election in the state. The clothes lines are becoming loaded with bifurcated shirts, the bifurcations showing a raw edge.

Whitewater Register: The general consensus of opinion on the part of the leading attorneys and newspapers of the state is very decidedly to the effect that Judge Cassoday has much the best of it in his opinion upon the Republican convention issue. The majority of the court shirk all responsibility and say that the status relieves them of jurisdiction in cases of that sort. Judge Cassoday takes a much broader and more comprehensive view of the matter, and shows that the inherent and guaranteed rights of members of a political party cannot be taken away from them by legislative enactment.

Milwaukee Sentinel: There is not a man in the whole company who has not knowingly and with his eyes wide open sacrificed the interests of the taxpayers whose money he draws from the treasury in order to further the cause of the government. With this understanding of the case—and it is the correct one—republicans should have no difficulty in determining how far the protest against the La Follette maladministration of state affairs should be carried when the time comes to register that protest at the polls. The men on the La Follette ticket have irrevocably cast their lot with that of their master; they have performed his behests; they have shared in his persistent neglect of duty; they have ignored the statute laws and earned retirement to private life where they will have time to meditate on their errors and deliberate offenses against the people who elected them to office. Every man on the ticket richly has earned the defeat that awaits him on election day.

Scotch Breakfast. Lady Violet Greville, in the Graphic: "The Scotch breakfast fills the southerner with a sense of surprise and envy. The plain bun, the Bath bun, the Banbury cake, is about all England can offer in the way of competition, while the mountains of scones, bannocks, haps, seed, oat and plum cakes which strew the Scotch breakfast table can only come from a land flowing with milk and honey."

British Emergency Ration. An emergency ration, packed in a small two compartment cylinder of tin, is carried in the haversack of every British soldier. As its name suggests, the ration is not to be used except in cases of the direst necessity. One compartment holds four ounces of cocoa paste and the other a similar quantity of concentrated beef. If consumed in small quantities it will maintain strength for many hours.

Politics Hot
The closing days of the campaign
promise to be hot ones. The democratic state central committee has wakened to the responsibilities of the situation and are sending out
tens of literature, both for Peck's
election and for their national ticket.
They have their list of stump speakers out and are holding meetings
each evening. The social democrats are also working. They claim they will be an important factor in the election. Victor Berger, who has been prominent in the work for the past few years, does not claim election but states that the social democrats are gaining in strength. The prohibitionists are also doing conscientious work, but in the present
tumult it will not count for much.
The governor and his lieutenants are making desperate efforts to cover the whole state and the Scofield ticket of the National Republicans are also putting in extra legs.

Large delegations from Waupaca.
Berlin, Fond du Lac, Neenah, and Menasha attended the Jeffris meeting last night. One man came all the way from Burlington. The address of Mr. Jeffris was given at Armory B, and that structure was crowded. A large number of ladies were present.

Mr. Jeffris was introduced by Charles Nevitt of the Paline Lumber company, who called attention to the fact that the railroads were aiding
the industries of the city by giving them favorable rates on raw materials. He declared that the lumber and wood-working industries of Oshkosh is dependent on favorable rates on lumber and other raw materials.

Mr. Jeffris was heartily applauded
when he made the confident prediction that Gov. La Follette would be defeated. He said that when the people of the state of Wisconsin elect a man the third time for governor, that man will be a broad minded, dignified individual to whom the people are grateful, and not a "two-by-four fellow chasing all over the state for money in a gasoline cook stove." His audience was decidedly sympathetic
and the meeting was remarkable for its warmth and enthusiasm.

La Follette's Plans
Governor La Follette seems to have made some sort of a mistake up in Green Bay. He and another republican speaker are both to be there the same night. Green Bay republicans do not like it. They claim that the governor knew that this night was engaged; that they wanted to hear Governor La Follette, but they also wanted to hear Congressman Burton.
Green Bay is not big enough for two big meetings in one night. Still,
however, the governor has announced
he is coming and this is to end it.
However, the matter may not end right here. Green Bay people are peculiar and they will resent this interference on the part of the governor. It has not made votes for him in the least.

right eye and other physical blemishes and on his plea of guilty, Judge Fifield sentenced him to five days in

WANT NEW TRAIN ON THE ST. PAUL

Citizens May Petition Company for Early Morning Accommodations
to Madison.

Citizens of Janesville may soon join in a formal petition to the St. Paul railroad company to establish a passenger train running from this city
to Madison in the morning and returning from Madison to Janesville
in the evening. This service is desirable from the standpoint of residents
all along the line between the Bower
city and the capital for several reasons. In the first place the last train from Milwaukee for Janesville leaves at 4:10 p. m. There already exists a train leaving Milwaukee for Madison at 7:00 p. m., with which the proposed new train could make connections so as to accommodate Janesville, Stoughton, Edgerton, and the other stations between here and Madison. In the second place an earlier train out of Janesville for Madison is desired. The only one now leaving over the St. Paul in the morning departs at 10:35. It would be a big saving of time to business men in many instances to have this accommodation and the establishment of this early morning train would doubtless afford inducements which would bring about much new travel.
Residents of Edgerton, Stoughton,
and other cities along the line who wished to visit Janesville would be enabled to return home early in the morning and the same advantages
would accrue to Madison and Milwaukee. The matter was called to the attention of the St. Paul officials on the occasion of their recent visit
here and it is thought that citizens
will make a combined effort to secure the new train.

ST. COMMISSIONER TO RELAY SEWER

At the Corner of Main and Milwaukee
Streets, Which Must Be Taken
Up and Put on New Grade.

More trouble for the city has come to light. At the corner of Milwaukee and Main streets the sewer pipe being laid in an easterly direction up Milwaukee street has come in contact with one of the large water pipes running north and south. In order to get by it will be necessary to take up about sixteen feet of pipe and establish a new grade. Contractor Benson placed his figure for doing this extra work at $100. The street
assessment committee this morning
deemed the figure too high and decided to have Street Commissioner Watson do the work. The existence of the water pipe and the stone sewer
on the grade and directly in the path of the sewer was not foreseen
until these obstacles were reached.

ELECTION ODDS HAVE SHIFTED

Milwaukee Election Brokers Have Little Money for La Follette End.

There was a great surprise for Janesville bettors, "Oh! morning in the lists sent out from Milwaukee by John Callahan as the odds show that there has been a great change in sentiment for governor during the past few days. Last Monday a Calahan sheet was received, and on it were such propositions as "2 to 1 on La Follette and $10 that La Follette will have 45,000 plurality." Today
all of these have disappeared from the list and in their places are the following offers:

$20 even that La Follette will not have 45,000.
$75 to $25 on Roosevelt.
$25 even that Parker will have more electoral votes than Bryan in 1908.
$10 that Wisconsin will give Roosevelt 70,000.
Not a cent has been left with Mr.
Callahan as backing for La Follette
and as these bettors watch the political situation as closely as it can be followed, the friends of the governor are wondering what has happened.
It is known that the offer of $20 even
that La Follette will not have 45,000
plurality comes from Beloit.

Identity Established.
In a court room of one of the blue grass counties of Kentucky, Gen. H—a prominent lawyer of that region,
was defending a prisoner charged with horse stealing, and the witness was swearing as to the identity of the stolen horse.

"How do you know this is the same horse?" asked Gen. H—
"Well, I just know it is," said the witness.
"Well, how?" again asked Gen. H—
"I can't tell exactly how; but I know it as well as I know you, Gen.
H—"
"Well, how do you know that I am Gen. H—?"
"Because just before dinner I heard heard Mr. C— say, 'Gen. H—, let's go and take a drink, and you went.'"

A Dry Salt Bath.
That salt possesses tonic qualities
is well known, but it has remained for a woman suffering from nervous prostration to try a dry sea salt rub with beneficial results. She soaks a coarse wash cloth in a strong solution of the sea salt, then dries it. After her cold bath of a morning she wipes off the moisture with a towel, then rubs with the salty wash cloth till her skin is in a glow. She says she has found this to be far more invigorating than
the usual bath in salt water.

To Dredge Lake for Wealth.

An English company has been formed to dredge the lake of Guata-vaca, Colombia. The Indians, when Gonzales Jimenez de Quesada and his Spaniards came, threw all their gold and jewels into this lake, that the god of the lake might keep them safe.
The English company is going to rake the bottom of the lake.

LAST TRIBUTES TO NOBLE DEAD

CITIZENS PREPARE FOR FUNERAL OF MARSHAL.

PROCESSION MOVES AT NINE

Will Be the Most Imposing Cortège
Ever Seen in Rock County—
Bells To Toll.

Tomorrow all that is mortal of Janesville's beloved city marshal will be carried by mourning citizens to the last resting place. The funeral cortège will be the most imposing
ever seen in the city—fitting tribute to the man who in his noble and useful life endeared himself to all good men in every station and circumstance of life. From the home at 207 South Franklin street the procession will move at nine o'clock to St. Patrick's church where high mass will be celebrated by Rev. Dean Mc-Ginnity. The church will not be opened until the arrival of the fire
police and the civic societies are first admitted.

Societies Assemble
The societies will meet at the Corn Exchange square, corner of Milwaukee and Franklin streets, and proceed from thence to the home on Franklin street. They will then march back on Franklin street to School street, west on School to Laurey, and south on Cherry to the church. The city officers will meet at the city hall at 8:30 o'clock and will join the funeral cortège at the home. When the services at the church are concluded the procession will move to the cemetery, the civic societies marching on foot, until they reach the point where Central Point
avenue intersects Washington street.
At this place street cars will be waiting to convey them the balance of the journey.

Order of the March
The long cortège will be headed by a carriage containing Mayor
Hutchinson and Fire Chief Klein.
In their order will follow the police and fire police, the Imperial band, the city officials in carriages, and the civic societies. Of these the Ancient Order of Hibernians will come first,
the Catholic Knights second, the Catholic Foresters third, and the Knights of Columbus fourth. The police will be reinforced by a delegation of fifty members of the Knights of Columbus from the same city will appear with the societies.

Honorary Pallbearers
Following the societies will come
the honorary pallbearers: Former Mayor Sam Cobb, Postmaster Oscar
Nowlan, Former Mayor Victor P.
Richardson, Police Mayor John
Thornburgh, Circuit Judge B. F.
Dunwiddie, County Judge Sala, and Judge Fifield. The pallbearers will be: Burt Wilbur, George Devins, Henry Brazzel, D. W. Hayes, John Doran, and Joseph Connors.

The Funeral Car
The funeral car, drawn by four coal
black horses, will have an escort of six men—four walking beside the horses and two seated in the driver's
box. Behind it will come the marshal's horse and buggy with an escort of two men. The buggy will be empty
save for the casket that John Hogan
carried in his life time.

Bells Will Toll
When the services at the church
shall have been ended and the slow
march to the cemetery begins, the city hall bell will be the first to voice the city's sorrow. After an interval of twenty seconds the bell
at No. 1 fire station will be sounded,
and when another interval has elapsed, the bell at No. 2 station.
These bells will toll until the cor-
tège shall have reached the intersection of Washington and Mineral Point avenues on its way to the cemetery.

Street Cars in Readiness
John Hogan's desk at the city hall
was draped in mourning this morning and the archway of the edifice
will be hung in black before tomorrow. Supt. Murphy will furnish several extra street cars to the cemetry and only a single fare for the round trip will be asked of those who follow the remains to their last resting place.

RURAL CARRIERS MAY ORGANIZE

Meeting Called for Sunday Afternoon
in This City, in Order to Take Action.

W. C. Collins of Edgerton, authorized organizer, has called a meeting
of all rural mail carriers in the county to be held at the Park hotel at one o'clock Sunday afternoon. The purpose of the meeting is to organize a county association.

Perjury Statistics.
The current notion that perjury is one of the crimes that are on the increase is not borne out by the figures
just issued relating to the German empire. In 1882 the number of persons convicted in that country of perjury
was 1,697; in 1902 it was only 1,292,
the decrease having been steady from year to year. Allowing for the great growth of the population, this means a decrease of nearly 50 per cent. in two decades.

Must Have Been Interesting.
Richard Mansfield was dining with a friend, a story writer, the other evening. The writer took from his pocket a letter and tapped it with his finger.

"I've heard curious requests," he said, "but I never heard or imagined such a one as this fellow makes. He's a consumptive out in Arizona, and evidently doesn't expect to live much longer. Listen to this:
"Dear Mr. Blank—I've read the first chapters of your serial story in Barker's Magazine. Can you send me
a manuscript copy of the whole thing?
Pardon this unusual request, but I've got to see the finish of that tale before I pass out."—New York Times.

CLASS TO STUDY ON ELECTRICITY

Claude Messer Will Teach Night
Class at the Y. M. C. A.
During Winter.

An electrical class for the purpose
of instructing amateurs who are desirous of becoming electricians in a practical manner will be organized at once in connection with the evening
educational classes of the Y. M. C. A.
All instructions will include
practical demonstrations with as little theory as possible. C. H. Messer has been engaged by the Y. M. C. A.
educational committee to teach this important branch. Mr. Messer has had considerable practical experience in Chicago, Madison, Milwaukee
and other cities, and has the ability to develop those who wish to obtain knowledge in the direction. All necessary apparatus will be free to students—Notably batteries, material,
wire, winding forms, insulation, testing current, galvanometers and other measuring instruments, direct current dynamo and motors. A switch board will also be installed for the convenience of students. All rules
relative to the measurements of electricity will be in accordance with the United States bureau of standards.
This will be a special opportunity for all young men to acquire practical ability and place them in line for advancement in the electrical business. Anyone desiring this class should register at once at the general secretary's office, Y. M. C. A. building.

FAVOR NO ALLIANCE WITH THE BELL CO.

Independent Telephone Men Decide
To Hold Out Against Toll-
Service Propositions.

About thirty independent telephone companies of southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois were represented at the meeting held in this city yesterday for the purpose of consulting with regard to the overtures which the Bell Telephone Co. has recently been making to the individual independent companies to connect with its toll lines. The opinion was unanimous among the representatives here
that they should hold out against the Bell Co. It being in the opinion of the independents, a competing concern with supposed fell designs of eventually monopolizing the field
again. Among the exchanges represented here were Ft. Atkinson, Edgerton, Milton Junction, Freeport, Caledonia, Brodhead, Evansville, Be-loft and Madison. It was learned that Monroe had signed a contract
with the Bell Co. about a month ago,
though it had not yet been completed
with the independent toll service.
This appeared to be about the only break in the ranks. There was also passed a resolution of protest against the Badger Telephone and Telegraph
Co. for not keeping the promise made
two years ago to extend the toll lines
and afford better service. Directions were given that if something was not done soon the independent companies would build toll lines of their own.

JAIL GUESTS FROM NEIGHBOR BELOIT

W. F. Holbrook Apprehended for Burglary, and Two Drunks
Arrived This Morning.

Chief of Police Scheibel of Beloit
brought three prisoners to the county jail this morning. One of them was W. F. Holbrook, charged with breaking into Warner's instrument store
and taking away thirty cents in money and $4 or $5 in money last evening. Holbrook was arrested for drunkenness later in the evening and the stamps were found on his person. Gus Johnson and Joe McDonald, each sentenced to five days for drunkenness, were also members of the trio.

In the basement of the high school building the carpenter's hammer is busy and there are being fitted up with baths and lockers, rooms for dressing purposes for the Girls' Athletic class which will commence work
next week. All the carpenter work is being done by the boys in the manual training department and they expect to have completed the job by
a week from today, though not much
can be accomplished quickly, as each scholar has but two periods of forty minutes each to devote to the work.
Miss Fletcher has charge of the class
and the work will be done in Sweed-ish athletics and not physical culture. Already eighty-two girls have been enrolled and each member will have to attend just as regularly as a class prescribed in a course of study is attended.

CHAPTER XX.

It was 4 o'clock when George left his house. The two had spoken little of the newspaper paragraph which informed them of Lola's escape. Although her name was not mentioned, there was no doubt in the mind of Brendon that she was the culprit. The newspaper gave the year of the book when the sheet was torn, and that corresponded to the year when Percy Vale married—or had been supposed to marry—Josina Lockwood. And this was the explanation of Lola's absence from town. She had not fled from the rebuke of Brendon, but had gone to do him an injury by destroying the evidence of his parents' marriage. This finally was the meaning of her wild threat to Dorothy.

Bawdsey was much upset over the news. He would have, immediately, to Wargrove, but some special business kept him in town. However, he promised to go the next morning by the first train. But, George was going that very day. Lola could not have known that his parents had been married at Wargrove without having seen Mrs. Jersey's confession, wherein the fact was probably mentioned. Therefore she must have obtained the confession in some way. How she achieved this, George could not conjecture. Then he thought of Lola's hot Spanish blood, of the stiletto—a peculiarly foreign weapon—and shuddered. It occurred to him that Lola herself must have stabbed the woman.

He found that a train left Liverpool street station for Southland at ten minutes past 5 and that Wargrove was a tiny rural town which could be reached in an hour. Ever quick and expeditious in his movements, at the appointed time he was on his way down the country.

It was a dull journey. It seemed that the new town of Wargrove was the place where the train stopped, but old Wargrove was three miles distant, and it was there that the parish church was situated.

As it proved, there was no necessity for George to go there. Lola was stopping in the policeman's house prior to her removal to the prison at Chelmsford. Her attempt at robbery had been committed on the previous day, and Brendon thought she would have already been removed. However, he was informed that there was some delay owing to the illness of the Chelmsford inspector, and therefore Lola would have to remain in Wargrove for another twelve hours. Brendon was glad to hear this, as it would save him a long journey. He thanked the policeman who had explained and was directed by the man to the house of his superior officer, which was on the outskirts of the town. George soon found a semi-detached house with a notice on it and on knocking at the door explained his errand to a brisk little woman. She pursed up her lips, looked inquisitively at him with bright eyes and called her husband. George produced a sovereign, but the official, although his eyes twinkled, hesitated to take the bribe. It was then that Mrs. Policeman came to Brendon's assistance.

"Nonsense, Jeremiah," she said briskly. "Let the young gentleman see his young lady. She's dying to have a sight of him."

"It's all very well," grumbled Jeremiah. "But 'tis against the law."

"You can be present at our interview if you like."

"There, Jeremiah, you can't have the gentleman saying fatter than that. Here the sharp little woman nudged her husband's arm. This was a hint for him to swallow his scruples and take the sovereign. Jeremiah agreed.

"Never! I do swear," she said, but after a time she began to smile. "Ah, you are not enraged. It was for you I did it. I wish my dear George to myself—all—"

"You know that is impossible."

"But it is not. I will have you."

"Not at all," said George deliberately. "You will marry Bawdsey."

"That pig—how horrible and miserable! No, ah, no. She springs to her feet. 'Never! I do swear,' and producing a small black crucifix from her dress she kissed it vehemently.

"Now, Lola, I wish you to tell me the truth."

"Ah, but I will. When you are kindness I tell you all."

"Do you know that you have done a wrong thing?"

"Pshaw!" she said contemptuously. "I give that old man's knuckles on the head, but he is alive. Oh, yes, I did not kill him."

"I don't mean the assault, though that is bad enough. But your trying to destroy the register of the marriage."

"It is your fault," cried Lola impetuously. "For loves of my George I did so. I wish you not to marry any but me."

"We can talk of that later, Lola. Answer me a few questions, and make no remarks."

"I will do what you say, my friend," said Lola, nodding. George thought for a moment. "How did you learn that Wargrove was the place where my parents were married?"

"Ah, you want to know all and then trick me. I will not tell."

"Then I will explain to you."

"Ah, you cannot—you know nothing at all. Pah! La, la, la, la."

George spoke sternly. "Lola, I know more than you give me credit for. I have seen the dagger."

"This time he struck home, for she started. 'What dagger?'"

"The stiletto you left in Mrs. Jersey's room."

"I did nothing. I was not there."

"Yes, you were. For all I know you may have killed the woman."

"But it is foolish you talk, George. I did not. She was frightened—oh, very much afraid."

"So much that she gave you the confession you asked for?"

"Ah, yes—yes—yes," cried Lola, then seeing she had betrayed herself she began to be alarmed. "Ah, you will say nothing. I would not tell any but my George. He loves me. He will not see me dead."

Every Throb Of My Heart Was Plainly Felt, and Sometimes Very Painful.

If your pulse is too strong, and your heart throbs so that you can feel the force of the heart-beat against your chest, your heart is weak and needs attention.

This is usually caused by long continued palpitation, over-work, excessive exercise, heart strain, and the condition indicates serious heart trouble. You should rest at once.

The very best thing to do is to take Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, a remedy that will strengthen the nerves and muscles of the heart, and restore them to their normal condition.

If you neglect to do this, disastrous consequences will surely follow. You will have smothering spells, pain in the heart, faintness, the valves of the heart will become leaky, and the heart left in a death struggle.

"My heart bothered me so that I could feel every pulsation. Could only sleep on my left side. Doctors told me that I had one of the most serious cases of heart trouble. I took about 15 or 20 bottles of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and am completely cured. I have had no symptoms of heart disease for two years, and am attending to my business affairs, which I could not do before."

and shortly the sovereign was in his pocket and he was leading George to a back upstairs room.

Before introducing George to the prisoner he struck Jeremiah that the prisoner had been inquired for as "the young lady." He stopped Brendon at the door. "Might you know her name, sir?"

"She is the most celebrated dancer in London, and her name is Lola Velez," said George. "I don't suppose she'll be punished much for this. She's mad at times."

"Oh, if she's mad she'll get off lightly, but then parish register to be torn—it's bad work that. My father was a sexton," explained Jeremiah soberly.

"And naturally you think Lola Velez has committed the most atrocious crimes, my good fellow. I have to return by the 9 train."

"I'll wait outside," said Jeremiah as he slowly unlocked the door.

Lola was seated by the window staring out into the darkness. On the table was a small lamp, and a fire burned in the grate. Lola started up when the door closed again. "Who is—who is?" she asked in her rapid way, and came toward him.

"Lola," began George, but he got no further. She ran forward and cried out:

"Oh, my dear one, hast thou come in anger? Trample me, make me as earth, beloved, but be not enraged—ah, no—ah, no!"

"Lola," he said, taking a chair near her, "I have come as your friend."

"Not in anger—ah, but yes, in anger."

"I am not angry. I am very sorry."

"Ah, but in your eyes—your sparkle. I see Mrs. Velez. I do try to steal the church books. You are furiously enraged."

"Look at me and see."

But Lola would not, so George took her chin and made her gaze directly into his eyes. Lola's were filled with tears.

"Never! I do swear," she said, but after a time she began to smile.

"Ah, you are not enraged. It was for you I did it. I wish my dear George to myself—all—"

"You know that is impossible."

"The stiletto you left in Mrs. Jersey's room."

"Good heavens, Lola, did you kill the woman?"

"That fat lady in black silk? Ah, no, I did not. But she was so afraid of the knife."

"You left her alive on that night?"

"Why, yes, my George. We part—oh, such good friends," Lola blew a kiss from her finger tips. "She quite pleased, immensely!"

"Well, Lola, as you have told so much, you must tell me all."

"There is nothing to say," she replied, turning sullen.

George rose. "Then I shall go away," he declared. "I came here to be your friend, Lola, and to save you from getting into further trouble. But if you will not be candid"—He moved to the door.

"Ah, my heart, do not go. Soul of my soul, leave me not. I will do anything what you ask of me."

"Then tell me the whole story of your visit to Mrs. Jersey."

"But you will marry Mees Vard?"

"I do that in any case. See here, Lola," he added artfully, "this marriage register which you wish to destroy does not matter now. My grandfather has acknowledged me as his heir."

She looked at him with wide eyes and pale cheeks. "And you will be my son—you will marry Mees Vard—you will—you will?"

"I will always be your friend, Lola?"

"You will marry Mees Vard?" she persisted.

"Lola," he took her hand—"if we married we would never be happy. I and you are different people. Do you wish to see me happy?"

"Yes—yes—but it is all so quick, my dear. Give times—oh, give times till I become used." She sobbed for a moment, then dried her eyes and sat down briskly. "I am ready, my George. You shall be happy, but you must not forget poor Lola—ah, no!"

"Of course not," replied George, patting her hand. "Now tell me the story. Wait. Was it your mother who told you of my father's death?"

"Yes," assented Lola. "She often talked of your father."

"I heard she was in love with him," said George slowly.

Lola shrugged her shapely shoulders. "That I know not. My dear mother was handsome—oh, yes, and dark, and fond of gayness. She might have loved—oh—it is impossible."

"Did she ever hint who killed my father?"

Lola shook her head. "No. Never did she say anything. He was found dead—stabbed—she made a gesture—that was all—"

Evidently she could tell him nothing, so George reverted to more immediate matters. "How about that night? You knew that I was going to Mrs. Jersey's on that night?"

"Ah, but yes. You did tell me."

"Then what made you come also? Was it to see me?"

Lola put her finger in her mouth and looked down. "No, my George. I did want that confession of the fat old lady, to stop you being a liar, and then I thought you would marry only poor Lola."

"How did you know about the confession?"

"That pig man told me."

"Bawdsey? Why did he tell you?"

"Pshaw!" said Lola contemptuously. "He loves me so, I can twist and twist him so." She made a rapid motion with her fingers. "We did talk of the death of your father. I lamented that my poor mother did love your father unhappily, as I did love you. And I was enraged to think that your father had died. I did ask Bawdsey who made the stab—gave the death—ah, it is, so, I asked," she added, nodding. "He could not say, but he declares that Mrs.—what you call her—ah, but my friend, Mrs. Jersey."

"Mrs. Jersey. Bawdsey declared that she knew?"

Lola nodded. "It was so," she assented. "Mrs.—what you call that fat lady—she wrote out all she knew of your father's death and of his marriage."

MORGAN READY TO FIGHT.

Financier Not Afraid of Having His "Block Knocked Out."

Here is one told on J. P. Morgan, at Highland Falls, where he has his country seat, and where in his early married life he boarded at the purely plebeian rate of $5 per week, say the village chroniclers. Mrs. Morgan has some very handsome flower beds skirting the driveway, and drivers are very specially ordered to keep in the middle of the roadway so that the flowers may not be injured.

Recently the banker, out driving, was confronted by an expressman coming in. Now, Mr. Morgan is noted in that part of the country for refusing to turn out for any vehicle. The expressman knew this, and he also knew Mrs. Morgan's ideas about driving on her flower beds. This conversation occurred:

"Say, Mr. Morgan, you turn out there. I ain't got no room to pass here!"

Mr. Morgan went right along. "See here, Morgan, if you don't turn out I'll go over there and knock your block off!"

Mr. Morgan smiled and replied: "You just come over and try it. I don't think you can, Jerry"—calling the drayman by name, as they knew each other well.

Economy.

Senator "Jim" Fair had two marked characteristics—economy and love of joking. He never forgot frugality in his extensive business, and he even made his own economy a subject for humor.

Once while putting around over the Comstock he slipped and started feet first down a deep, narrow shaft. There was a long, continuous wooden ladder reaching to the bottom, with its every twelfth rung of iron to strengthen the structure. Down this he sped.

"When I found myself sliding down toward the center of the earth," said the senator, who used to enjoy telling the story, "I thought it was time to begin doing something. So I commenced to grab at the ladder rungs. As I went down I broke every single one of them wooden sticks. This checked the speed of my fall, and I landed 'bout a thousand feet below, badly shook up but not hurt."

"But what did you do when you came to the iron rungs?" he was asked.

"Oh, I just skipped 'em. Couldn't afford to break 'em. Wood was cheap, but iron was then turned dear on the Comstock."

Fewer Deaths in India.

The fact that about 4,000,000 deaths from fevers, mostly malarial, are caused in India every year indicates the stupendous importance of the mosquito problem. It has been proved that people dwelling in houses a mile from the breeding grounds of the anopheles variety of mosquitoes are practically free from malaria.

Soldiers' Time of Suffering.

Capt. Curtis, who has written a popular story of Indian fighting, says in response to a boy's inquiry that he never was captured, but on one occasion, when besieged by Redskins in a fort, he realized what he had read about wives having asked their husbands not to let them fall into the hands of savages. "In that case," he says, "when it was exceedingly doubtful that we should survive and all depended upon the swift arrival of a rescuing party, Mrs. Curtis asked me to make such a promise—to save one bullet for her should we be captured. Relief did not come for forty-eight hours and during that awful time I suffered indescribable distress in trying to contrive some way of concealing wife and child from a relentless and merciless foe."

Goldfish Destroy Mosquitoes.

People living in the island of Cyprus have discovered that the water tanks in private houses are favorite breeding places for mosquitoes, and they have learned as well that goldfish are effective destroyers of the mosquito larva. As few as five or six goldfish are sufficient to keep an ordinary house tank free.
